

MEMORIES AND ASPIRATIONS: A JOURNEY THROUGH LIFE

"The beautiful thing about learning is that no one can take it away from you."

MY SCHOOL LIFE

School life was the most memorable and joyful period of my life. My school's name is Dhrangee K.B high school. It was the foundation of my education and character. I began my journey with curiosity and a little nervousness, but soon the school environment became my second home. My teachers were caring and supportive. They not only taught academic lessons but also guided me in developing discipline, honesty, and good manners. I made many close friends with whom I shared laughter, games, and unforgettable moments. Participating in sports, cultural programs, and competitions helped me build confidence and discover my talents. Though examinations sometimes brought pressure, they also taught me the value of hard work and perseverance. Overall, my school life shaped my personality and prepared me for future challenges.

MY COLLEGE LIFE

College at Carmichael College, Rangpur, was my first real taste of independence. The massive campus felt intimidating at first, but it quickly became the place where I grew up. While the academics were tougher, they pushed me to find my own voice through presentations and group work. Beyond the books, it was friendships—sharing big dreams and late-night exam stress—that taught me the true value of support and time management. It wasn't just about a degree; it was about becoming more self-reliant.

My Family & Legacy Goals

- Achieve Independence: Secure my career early to become the financial pillar my family deserves.
- Honor My Parents: Dedicatedly work toward the day I can repay their sacrifices and make them truly proud.
- Lead with Integrity: Commit to being a compassionate leader by helping others as I rise.

MY FUTURE PLAN

My roadmap is simple: complete my higher education with excellence and build a career that makes my parents proud. I'm not just chasing a paycheck; I want to be a person of character—someone who is honest, compassionate, and ready to give back to society. My goal is to balance professional success with a meaningful life, ensuring that as I rise, I also help those around me.
